

Article 30: Statutory and Non-Statutory Holidays

30.01 The following days shall be recognized as holidays:

- Good Friday
- Easter Monday
- The Monday immediately preceding May 25 (Victoria Day)
- La Fête Nationale
- Canada Day
- Labour Day
- Thanksgiving Day
- Christmas Day and December 26
- New Year's Day and January 2
- President's Holiday.

30.02 Depending upon administrative and academic circumstances, the University would normally be closed from noon on December 24 until the regular time for opening on January 3. However, special consideration may require the opening of certain University facilities during this period. An announcement shall be made concerning the period of closure during the Christmas period prior to October 31, each year.

30.03 The requirements for library services and evening classes may make necessary special provisions relating to library services and evening classes only.

30.04 When a statutory holiday falls on a weekend, the Employer will recognize any other day that is officially declared a holiday.

30.05 The University community shall respect religious holidays of recognized faiths not covered above.
